SUDDEN DEATH

Of Councilman James Dudley
Ware Sunday Morning.

Buried Yesterday With The Honors of The Knights of Pythias Order.

Mr. James Dudley Ware died Sunday morning at eleven o'clock from an attack of heart failure, following a spell of illness that had kept him in his bed most of the time for two months past. He became much worse Saturday, but the public was not apprised of the change in his condition and the news of his death came as a shock to his friends.

Mr. Ware was a son of the late W. W. Ware and was in the 60th year of his age. He was prominent as a business man and represented the Second ward in the city council, having served in that capacity several terms in recent years. Mr. Ware leaves two daughters, Misses Tony and Bettie Ware and two younger sons, Fairleigh and Wallace Ware.

Funeral services were held by Evergreen Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of which he was a member, after Dr. W. L. Nourse had conducted a short prayer service at the family residence on South Virginia street yesterday morning.

The honorary pall bearers were Messrs. F. W. Dabney, E. M. Flack, J. T. Wall, E. B. Long, C. H. Bush, Geo. E. Gary, W. F. Garnett and Chas M. Meacham.

There were many floral tributes and a large procession of sympathetic friends followed the body to its resting place in Riverside Cemetery.

NEW CITY CLERK.

H. W. Tibbs Elected to Succeed H. P. McMath.

City Clerk Herbert P. McMath tendered his resignation Saturday to accept a more lucrative position as custodian of the Elks Club Rooms, entering upon his new duties at once. A special session of the city council was held at 3 o'clock p. m. to receive the resignation and elect a successor. By a unanimous vote Mr. H. W. Tibbs was elected to the vacancy and will at once take charge of the office. Mr. Tibbs has filled the office before and has also served as a councilman and brings with him to the position an experience that will be valuable. He will appoint his daughter, Miss Florence Tibbs, as his deputy, who will have charge of the office during the hours that it is required to be kept open for business. Mr. Tibbs will continue his duties as agent of the Southern Express Co.

FIRST SPREAD.

At Salubria Hotel Last Sunday Afternoon.

There were 150 or 200 visitors at Salubria Springs last Sunday. The dining room, which is 30x50 feet is already lathed and ready for plastering. A lot of ladies from Pembroke had the first spread late in the afternoon. The work benches about the building were utilized as tables and a fine 6 o'clock dinner was served. Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen partook of the feast of good things brought down from Pembroke.

FINN AND FERGUSON

Are Running Neck And Neck
In The Front, Southall
Strong Third.

Landrum And Gardner Have 73 Votes And 18 Are Uninstructed.

The county delegations elected in 39 counties Saturday will meet in convention at Henderson to-day to nominate a Democratic candidate for railroad commissioner.

The candidates are McD. Ferguson, the present incumbent, of McCracken; Lawrence B. Finn, of Simpson; W. H. Southall, of Christian; Geo. W. Landrum, of Livingston, and Bunk Gardner, of Graves.

The following is the strength of the various candidates, as they will enter the convention:

Finn—Butler 5, Hart 8, Barren 15, Caldwell 6, Warren 17, Metcalfe 5, Todd 8, Hancock 4, McLean 7, Allen, 7, Edmunson 4, Simpson 8, Davies 24, Total 118.

Landrum—Calloway 12, Livingston 6, Crittenden 6, Hopkins 16, Total 40.

Southall—Webster 11, Breckenridge 10, Christian 13, Henderson 17, Trigg 6, Total 57.

Ferguson—Meade 6, McCracken, 15; Muhlenberg, 10; Larue, 7; Grayson, 8; Ohio, 13; Marshall, 8; Hickman, 8; Union, 13; Carlisle, 7; Ballard, 9, Total, 104.

Gardner—Graves, 25; Fulton, 8, Total, 33.

Uninstructed—Hardin, 14; Lyon, 4, Total, 18.

Contested delegations in Ohio, Grayson and McLean.

The Lyon delegates are instructed to support first district candidate and then thesecond district candidate. This means that they will not vote for Finn as long as he has an opponent. The Hordin delegation is made up of Ferguson and Landrum men.

It takes 193 votes to nominate. Finn has 7 contested votes in Allen and Ferguson has 13 in Ohio and 10 in Grayson. If Hardin and Lyon give most of their 18 votes to Ferguson, he may lead Finn on the first ballot. They are pretty evenly matched with Southall third, in the race. There are 63 First district votes that will most likely be controlled against Finn in the organization, which puts him in a very dangerous attitude. It is anybody's race and a lively convention may be looked for. A large delegation will go to Henderson this morning to work for Southall's nomination. About 250 voters attended the convention Saturday and he was strongly endorsed and about 60 delegates named.

Finishing Up.

Work was begun yesterday morning on the concrete sidewalk extending from the Opera House back to the corner of the Commercial Bank. It is expected to have the work completed by tonight. As tonight is the beginning of the Music Festival the work will be finished in good time for the crowd.

PARIS POLICE DOGS

ANIMALS TRAINED TO RUN DOWN AND "ARREST" CRIMINALS.

An innovation to be tried in the Suburbs of the Great French Capital is Patterned after Dog Police of Ghent.

Paris police are keen, alert and energetic, but they have found themselves unequal to the task of rounding up the thieves and assassins which thrive, seemingly, as never before in her streets and the outlying districts. Conscious of the fact that they had reached the limit of efficiency on the part of the policemen of the genus homo, the progressive and resourceful prefect of police, M. Lepine, has turned hopefully towards the police of the genus canine. Dogs, specially trained to the work, are to be enlisted on the force, and when they are fully trained and set to work it is expected they will soon have every roustabout, thief and law-breaker literally on the run, with every certainty of capture.

The idea of dog policemen came from Ghent, Belgium, where such a canine squad is said to be a perfect success. In former days Ghent was a paradise for thieves and robbers. Now, says Burgomaster van Wesemael, of that city, it is perfectly safe and tranquil. He declares:

"The police system of Ghent is first class because it is logical. It is not insufficient personnel, but insufficient method which is responsible for the anarchy in many cities. The dogs of Ghent's police force are better and trained to the profession. At the age of three months they are as carefully nurtured, fed and trained as a young race horse. They are taught to know nobody as acquaintance or friend except the human members of the police force.

The result is that they finally become accustomed to the hands of their masters and totally indifferent to influences outside of their regular work.

The dog force in Ghent now numbers 30. When on duty at night the police dog walks ten paces ahead of the policeman. While the latter examines doors and shutters the dog carefully pokes his nose into all the nooks and corners.

These dogs are not of any fancy toy breed by any means, but belong to that hardy race known in Europe to the custom house frontier service and closely allied to the sheep dog breed. The dog force of Ghent is to be increased to 100 soon.

Similarly at Paris it is expected that dogs will prove valuable.

Three animals have been purchased and are all under a year old, bright, keen and intelligent. Their training has been most careful, for it will be highly necessary for the dogs to leave the honest citizen alone while harrasing the thief. Their lessons are given every day at Neuilly, and are most interesting.

The dogs are first taught to respond always to the cry of "Help!" "Police!" "Robbers!" and "Murder!" As they fly to rescue they remain alert, but once in sight of their quarry they bark loudly and continuously to guide the police to them. Once they have picked out the malefactor they are as stick to him, no matter what he does, and to pull him down if possible.

Duke, one of the dogs, during his training has gained the name of the "climber," because during the tests he has learned to leap up the side of a pole or tree to catch the fugitive by the foot, to which the dog hangs despite all efforts to shake him off.

Other dogs will leap over walls, fences or anything else. They are stout-hearted dogs, and part of their training is to learn to disregard clubs, kicks and blows. They speedily become skilful at this, just as bear dogs learn to evade the sweeping blows of bruin's paw.

Everything has been arranged in the training yard as it is in the forest or along deserted streets with walls, sudden twists and turns. It is thought the three dogs, Duke, Black and Bob, will be detailed to active work within a month.

Paris authorities are very reticent concerning the dogs. M. Simard will not allow any persons to witness the training, nor will he discuss the plan. He refuses to tell the breed of his dogs.

ITS SEMI-CENTENNIAL

MICHIGAN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE TO CELEBRATE.

President Roosevelt and Other Distinguished Guests Expected to Be Present at Doings Last of May.

Michigan agricultural college, which antedates all similar institutions in this country, is to hold a big celebration during the three closing days of the month of May in recognition of the completion of its fiftieth year in the special field of farm educational work. This alone is sufficient to lend importance to the event, but as a star attraction it is expected that President Roosevelt, under whose administration such advance steps have been taken in agricultural science, is to be present, together with other distinguished guests of national reputation.

The origin of the Michigan Agricultural college was primarily due to the efforts of the State Agricultural society, which, after a campaign of ten years, succeeded in having inserted in the constitution in 1850 a provision for the establishment of a state agricultural college. The legislature of 1857 carried the provision into effect. The society was charged with the responsibility of selecting a site, a limit of $15 an acre being placed upon the purchase price. A number of sites were offered, but the members were impressed with a tract of 622 acres of wilderness lying three miles east of Lansing, on the bank of the Red Cedar river. Only a few acres had been cleared. Whether it was responsible for the opportunity for development or not, they selected a location that has now become one of the most beautiful spots in the country.

The legislature, in establishing the college set apart $45,000, which was secured from land donated by the government and commonly termed "salt springs land," to be used in purchasing the site and erecting buildings. The first buildings consisted of a dormitory known as "Saints' Rest," College hall, which still remains as the central building of the institution, a brick barn and four brick dwellings. The college was open for students in May, 1857.

The college was at first placed under the control of the state board of education. In 1861 the state board of agriculture was created and placed in charge of the college. Work was confined largely to agriculture, English, science and practical work in clearing the land, ditching it, erecting fences, etc. All students were required to work three hours a day.

While the college was intended as a state institution, the national government has contributed very generously.

Dr. J. L. Snyder, President of College Since 1896.

ously by endowments. In 1865 congress appropriated land for the maintenance, by the several states, of "colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts." By accepting this act the Michigan Agricultural college came into the possession of 240,000 acres of land under what is known as the Morrill act, the provision of which, in establishing the type of education to be fostered and maintained, coincided identically with the course of instruction already given in the Michigan institution. Congress has passed four additional acts, each carrying an endowment for various purposes. In 1896 the college received from the national government $120,000. From the state the college receives an appropriation of one-tenth of a mill tax, which in 1906 amounted to $108,810.

The college now has four departments: Agriculture, forestry, engineering and a course for young women in which the sciences they study are applied to the home industries. The course for young women was started about ten years ago and has proved a gratifying success, being regarded as a model of domestic science instruction.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Hopkinsville People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Do not neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Hopkinsville.

Mrs. W. L. Johnson, of 915 Jessup Ave., Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "My husband suffered for several years with kidney complaint which made its presence known by a most severe aching in his back and which often became so bad, especially in the morning when rising or on occasion when he was obliged to do considerable stooping or lifting that he could scarcely move about. It occurred to him while reading an advertisement in local papers about Doan's Kidney Pills that they might at least give him some relief and acting on the thought he went to Thomas & Trahern's drug store and got a box. Their use proved the merits of the remedy. The aches and pains were relieved and the other symptoms disappeared. I have the best of reasons to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and am confident that in every case they do all that is represented for them."

SKIN TORTURES AFFLICT CHILDREN

Obstinate Case of Eczema Covered Little Girl's Limbs with Running Sores—Poison Oak Made Boy's Hands and Arms a Mass of Torturing Sores—Sufferers Soon Relieved and Completely Cured—Grateful Mother Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES A HOUSEHOLD STANDBY"

"Last year, after having my little girl treated by a very prominent physician for an obstinate case of eczema, I resorted to the Cuticura Remedies, and was so well pleased with the almost instantaneous relief afforded that I discarded the physician's prescriptions and relied entirely on the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. When we commenced with the Cuticura Remedies her feet and limbs were covered with running sores. In about six weeks we had her completely well, and there has been no recurrence of the trouble."

"In July of this year a little boy in our family poisoned his hands and arms with poison oak, and in twenty-four hours his hands and arms were a mass of torturing sores. We used only the Cuticura Remedies, washing his hands and arms with the Cuticura Soap, and anointing them with the Cuticura Ointment, and then gave him the Cuticura Resolvent. In about three weeks his hands and arms healed up. So we have lots of cause for feeling grateful for the Cuticura Remedies. We find that the Cuticura Remedies are a valuable household standby, living as we do twelve miles from a doctor. Mrs. Elsie Vincent Thomas, Fairmount, Walden's Ridge, Tenn., Oct. 13, 1905."

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Have Finished Work of Going Over the Lists.

The board of tax supervisors for the city, which met on May 9, 10 and 11, was composed of M. L. Eib, chairman; J. E. Buchanan and J. M. Starling. Numerous notices of changes were sent out and the board reconvened and completed its work May 16, 17 and 18. Owing to a death in Mr. Eib's family, Mr. W. A. Wilgus was appointed in his stead. The changes in the assessor's figures were not very important and were small in the aggregate amount, as the work of assessor M. F. Greshaw was very thoroughly and carefully done. Last year the assessment was about $2,850,000 and $108,000 of omitted property was added, which did not include banks. This time the banks list $400,000 under the new law and the total list will be $3,540,945.

BIG MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL

Everything in Readiness and a Great Time Just Ahead.

INNES' RAND HERE.

Big Attendance from Eight Surrounding Towns Already Assured.

Tonight Hopkinsville's big Music Festival begins.

Everything is ready. Innes' great band of 60 pieces will arrive on an early train this morning and the shows and band will rehearse all day. The opening night will be well attended by our own people and large delegations will be here from a distance. Many persons came in yesterday.

It is expected that Eddyville will send at least 40 people; Princeton 60; Kuttawa 25 or 30; Madisonville 100; Gracely 60; Cadiz considerably over a hundred; Pembroke will have a large crowd here every day, and all along both lines of railroads there will be many in attendance who have not yet been heard from.

Round trip special rates have been arranged for over the roads and during the three days of the festival the city will be filled with people in the county and from a distance.

Tomorrow and Thursday there will be a performance in the afternoon and at night.

Manager McPherson has done a great work in consummating a plan to improve the tabernacle and advertise Greater Hopkinsville.

DAYS ARE NUMBERED

ISTHMIAN CANAL SOUNDS DEATH WARRANT OF SAILING CRAFT.

Rapid Decline Already Noted in the Construction of the Wind-Propelled Vessels—Some Big Boats Still Used.

The handwriting is on the wall and the days of the American sailing ship are numbered. Every shovelful of dirt which is thrown out at Panama in constructing the canal is a warning note of the inevitable, for as the cutting of the Suez canal destroyed the Indianmen and the fast freighter of far Eastern ports, the great tea fleets and the Australian fliers, so will the opening of the Panama trench deal a fatal blow at the last remnants of the sailing trade of America, epitomized in this instance by the great fleet of "wind-jammers" that yearly rounds Cape Horn.

Statistics show that unless marine architects grapple promptly with the problem of improving the designs of sailing ships, they will very soon be supplanted by the steamer in every branch of marine enterprise save the fisheries and coastwise trades. This rapid decline in the construction of sailing ships and the apparently inevitable effacement of them eventually is looked upon as one of the most striking features of marine architecture in the twentieth century.

While this applies to the shipping of the world at large, it is especially true of the merchant marine of the United States. Despite the decline shown by statistics, some authorities still nurture the notion that the sailor's day is not at its eventide, but that there is and will be a great sphere of usefulness for her. They admit that as an investment her value has been greatly undermined, but they contend that it would only require more effective organization and combination among vessel owners to greatly enhance her status as an engine of dividends.

They base their argument on the fact that marine architects, encouraged by capitalists, have been devoting their entire attention of late years to the improvement of the steamship to the neglect of the sail craft. They point out that, excepting a few leather sailers built in America and Germany within a decade, the general type of sailship to-day is identical with that of a generation ago.

There are arguments in favor of this view. It is an established fact that a steamship to-day which is 30 years old is inefficient and out of date and a poor investment. And yet the majority of the sailers in use to-day are of that age or older, and are still expected to prove as satisfactory as they ever were. That the ingenuity of naval architects could do much for the merchant sail craft is undoubted and is plainly obvious from the metamorphosis wrought by them in the racing type of yacht. In ballast and stiffening the sailer is as far behind the times as the old "high-wheeled" bicycle. Water ballast has not yet been successfully applied to her, and yet there is no reason why some simple contrivance cannot be devised which would admit of her using it. As a rule the sailers of to-day have no sand or clay for ballast, as they did years ago, and the cost of time in stowing and discharging these materials is almost fatal. It is this that gives rise to the epigrammatic nationalism: "A sailer earns freight only at sea," but the wind as a motive power is more reliable than is commonly supposed, and is generally known, there are the trade winds always to be depended upon.

Economy in operation, vast carrying capacity and the possibility of making neat profits on imperishable cargoes, such as grain, should weigh heavily in favor of the old "wind-jammer" and incite the architect to perfect models for her that will give her her share of modern improvement.

But the greatest menace of all at the present time, is the Panama canal. An eminent authority recently said that the completion of this canal will mean the sailing craft forever. It will mean that diverting of the Prisco grain trade, the Chili nitrate trade and the general freight trade of the southern half of the western continent into the hands of the steamship owners. Their vessels would carry more quickly and economically through the new ditch the cargoes that are now forming the means of upkeep for a large and costly fleet of sailers.

When the pros and cons on both sides have been heard, the whole situation is put in a word by the restoration that architects must pay attention to sailing models if the able old "wind-jammer" is to be saved from Davy Jones' locker.

A STYLISH SKIRT.

Pattern No. 5737.—This modish skirt is one of the newest and smartest of the season. It is a five-gore model, and is laid in deep pleats that turn away from the center in panel effect. The pleats are stitched down to yoke depth, and carefully pressed to the lower edge, thus giving a close fit around the hips, with a wide graceful flare at the foot. White mohair is represented in the illustration, but several other materials are appropriate such as cashmere, checked suiting, cheviot, serge and linen. For the 16-year size four and one-quarter yards of 45-inch material will be required.

Misses' Pleated Skirt, No. 5737. Sizes for 15, 16 and 17 years.

CHILD'S SLEEPING GARMENT.

Pattern No. 5761.—In the making of clothes for the little ones, comfort is the first thing to be considered. This style of sleeping garment is a popular one with all mothers as they feel assured that the child is well protected even if the feet peep from under the covers, as they sometimes do however carefully they may be tucked in. The pattern is well cut and fitted with full directions for making. Outing or flannel are the materials most in use for the making of garments of this kind. The three-year size requires two and one-half yards of 36-inch material.

Child's Sleeping Garment, No. 5761. Sizes for 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. The pattern here illustrated will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents.

Livery Change

I have bought the livery business of Evitts & Courtney, on North Main street, and would be glad to have my old friends and customers call on me. I am going to do a general livery business, keep none but the best help, board horses, furnish the very best rigs and guarantee satisfaction in every way. I am the oldest man in the business in the city and am not afraid to make the assertion that I will please all.

When The Kidneys Are

Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak and out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
